

Human Baby, Human Being

CONFERENCE

Contributions from the Emerging Field
of Prenatal and
Perinatal Psychology

Bristol, UK

Saturday 8th and Sunday 9th June 2019

with workshops on Friday 7th and Monday 10th June

A landmark conference for professionals interested in the long-term effects of prenatal and birth experiences

This conference will be invaluable for anyone working with babies, children and parents. It will also be valuable to those who are interested in how our womb life and birth shape us as adults. It touches upon vital human themes that are central to a wide-range of different professions, such as midwives, doulas, body therapists, osteopaths, lactation consultants, educationalists, paediatricians, psychologists and psycho-therapists.

www.babyconference.co.uk

This keynote conference will bring together innovative pioneers who have changed our understanding of the importance of how our womb and birth experience impact us as human beings. Many of our presenters are highly respected authors, lecturers and workshop leaders in the emerging field of prenatal and perinatal psychology. Their collective insights offer a radical new vision as to how we might welcome babies into the world, support parents and recognize the life-long consequences of these early experiences for individuals and society.

The conference is extremely proud to have a hugely experienced line-up of speakers many of whom will be offering workshops immediately before and after the conference.

Presenters and topics include:

Thomas Verny (Canada):
Genetics, Epigenetics and the Trans-generational Transmission of Trauma

Ludwig Janus (Germany):
The Collective Psychological Dimension of Pre and Perinatal Psychology

Anna Verwaal (Holland):
From Womb to World – the Journey that Shapes our Life

Cherionna Menzam-Sills (UK): Prenatal and Birth Experience – Shadow and Potential

Matthew Appleton (UK):
Good Baby Syndrome –
A Legacy for Life

Kate Rosati (UK):
Relational Feeding – the Journey from Womb to Breast

Klaus Käppeli
(Switzerland):
Creating a Human Being

Jenni Meyer (UK):
When does Prenatal
Experience Begin?

Thomas Harms
(Germany):
Self-attachment and
Inner Security

Kate White (USA)
& John Wilks (UK):
Demystifying the Practitioner Experience
of Working with Babies

Workshops Friday 7th June (10.00am – 5.00pm):

Thomas Harms: The Drama of Perfectionist Parents

Matthew Appleton: Birth from the Baby's Perspective

Cherionna Menzam-Sills: Embodying our Original Embryological Potential
with Continuum

Workshops Monday 10th June (10.00am – 5.00pm):

Thomas Verny: An Introduction to Pre and Perinatal Psychology

Ludwig Janus: The Collective Psychological Dimension of Pre and Perinatal
Psychology

Anna Verwaal: The Longterm Effects of the Conception, Pregnancy and Birth Experience

Kate White: Baby Dynamics – a Full Spectrum Approach to Working with Babies

Saturday 8th and Sunday 9th June 2019
with workshops on Friday 7th and Monday 10th June

Costs and booking:

Conference: £195 early bird/ £220 after 31st March 2019

Workshops: £85 early bird/ £95 per workshop day after 31st March 2019

Venue for conference and workshops: Armada House, Telephone Ave, BRISTOL, BS1 4BQ

Booking online at: www.babyconference.co.uk

Administrator: Julie Nettleship ✉ conscious.embodiment@sky.com ☎ +44 (0)7803 124 558

Organisers: Conscious Embodiment Trainings, Our Birth Journey and Ehealth Learning

Conscious Embodiment Trainings

www.conscious-embodiment.co.uk

www.ehealthlearning.tv

www.ourbirthjourney.com